

Rachel Bird is the Senior Policy Analyst for the Strong American Schools' ED in 08 campaign. In this position, Rachel researches major campaign policies, develops the campaign message and works with the presidential candidates' policy staffers. Prior to joining the ED in 08 campaign, Rachel was a middle school science teacher in Philadelphia. She also worked at Achieve, Inc. on the American Diploma Project, specifically working with 13 states in the Network to align their high school standards with the demands of college and work. Rachel received a master's degree in Education Policy Studies from The George Washington University and a bachelor's degree in sociology from the University of Florida.